

$$\begin{array}{c} x \ y \ z \\ A = (A,A,z) \\ B = (G,Q,z) \\ C = (G,A,z) \\ C = (G,A,z)$$

												+
												1
												-
		\Box										1

												+
												1
												-
		\Box										1

												+
												1
												-
		\Box										1

												+
												1
												-
		\Box										1

												+
												1
												-
		\Box										1

												+
												1
												-
		\Box										1

												+
												1
												-
		\Box										1

												+
												1
												-
		\Box										1

												+
												1
												-
		\Box										1

												+
												1
												-
		\Box										1									